

Cont. Ed: Understanding and Respecting the Gender and Sexual Orientation Spectrums

Training Description:

The goals of this workshop involve developing a clearer understanding of the differences between sexual orientation and gender identity and the issues of privilege related to both. A section of the presentation involves best practices around pronoun usage and how this relates to the concepts of cultural competency and cultural humility.

Dr. Hutter is currently providing services in various roles. He is a visiting professor at Iona University in New York; the Gender Services Specialist at Sand Ridge Secure Treatment Center; an adjunct faculty member for North Central University in California; as well as owning his own private practice, where he provides consultation, supervision, and trainings. His clinical work focuses on LGBTQ+ youth and adults, sexual dysfunction, conflictual couples, persons belonging to the immigrant community, and suicide prevention. Dr. Hutter holds one master's degree in Marriage and Family Therapy, another in Clinical Psychology, and a Doctorate in Clinical Psychology.
